Our success stories

습습습습

The solution provided by M24Seven is exactly what we needed, and as they own their own infrastructure it gives us the scalability and flexibility we need. The speed of response is second to none.

Total Fitness

Not only that, their customer service, from pre-sales and provisioning through to day-to-day support has been first class. I have never dealt with a team that is so knowledgeable about the technology they are providing.

In today's business market, customers place enormous importance on the availability of their connectivity. This is especially true where they're implementing a solution to new offices, or significantly upgrading their service to accommodate growing bandwidth requirements.

Entanet

In these instances, timing is everything, and the impact of delays and excess construction charges can seriously damage their project. Through our partnership with M24Seven, channel partners can deliver a cost effective working solution to a customer fast, whether it be as a primary or interim connection.

☆☆☆☆☆

Business is much easier now we have only one connectivity provider for all our sites, there is only one point of call should we have any issues and the support M24Seven provides is exactly what we need.

Barburrito

There is a quick turnaround on queries and issues and also when it comes to implementing new sites into the network.
